

Ambegaon Taluka Vidya Vikas Mandal's
B. D. Kale Mahavidyalaya, Ghodegaon
Political Science Department
Course Outcome
SYBA (w. e. f- 2014- 2015)
2018-19

General Paper G-2 : Government & Politics of U.K. and U.S.A.

Course Objectives:

1. To study the constitutions of the U.K. and U.S.A. through a comparative approach.
2. To understand the constitutional provisions, institutional arrangements, and political processes of both systems.
3. To examine the historical backgrounds of these constitutions for better understanding of their evolution.
4. To analyze the working of political institutions in relation to parties, interest groups, and social movements.
5. To develop comparative insights into similarities and differences between the two political systems.

Course Outcome:

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1: Describe the evolution and features of the constitutions of the U.K. and U.S.A.
- CO2: Analyze the structure, functions, and powers of legislature, executive, and judiciary in both countries.
- CO3: Assess the role of political parties, interest groups, and state governments in democratic processes.
- CO4: Evaluate the impact of social movements (human rights, women's, ethnic movements) on governance and policy-making.

S.Y.B.A Special Paper-I: Western Political Thought

Course Objectives:

- To introduce students to classical political thought from Plato to Marx.
- To study how major thinkers analyzed the political problems of their times.
- To interpret political texts both historically and philosophically.
- To understand the continuity and change in the Western political tradition.
- To critically examine the limitations of classical political thought, especially regarding women and non-European contexts.

Course Outcome:

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1: Explain the major ideas of political thinkers from Plato to Marx.
- CO2: Analyze philosophical debates on state, liberty, justice, revolution, and general will.
- CO3: Compare and contrast the contributions of classical thinkers to modern political theory.
- CO4: Critically examine the limitations of Western political thought (e.g., neglect of women and non-European perspectives).

SYBA Special Paper-II: Political Sociology

Course Objectives:

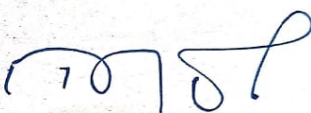

- To define the scope and nature of political sociology as a discipline.
- To understand the intellectual foundations laid by Marx, Weber, and behavioralists.
- To analyze concepts such as political culture, socialization, ideology, and participation.
- To study legitimacy, influence, and political change in society.
- To evaluate the processes of political development in a sociological perspective.

Course Outcome:

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- CO1: Define political sociology and explain its intellectual foundations (Marx, Weber, behavioral approach).
- CO2: Analyze the role of political culture, political socialization, and political ideology in shaping society.
- CO3: Assess factors influencing political participation, legitimacy, and influence.
- CO4: Evaluate the processes of political change and development in contemporary societies.

Principal & Head of Department
PRINCIPAL
B. D. Kale Mahavidyalaya
Ghodegaon, Dist. Pune